A PROCLAMATION.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.- Mayor Kalloch has issued the following proclamation:

I deem it my duty to the city over whose welfare I have been called to preside, and to the public at large, which is being infamously deceived by incendiary misrepresentations as to our situa. tion, to declare in a most emphatic and public manner, that there is not, and never has been, the slightest reason to apprehend any disturbance, riot or lawlessness whatever from the working classes of San Francisco. If trouble comes to us it will not come from them. A most inexcusable and outrageous measure is being used by designing men to goad them into riotous demonstrations, but they will fail. They are, as they have proved themselves to be as they have proved themselves to be under the most trying provocation, the law-abiding and peace-preserving portion of our population. I vouch to the world for them that they will so continue; and I further declare that, how ever people abroad may be imposed upon, the people of this city see through all the transparent humbuggery of the military interference, police increase and the inflammatory circulars, and will wait for their constitutional day of judgment to peaceably but effectively consign their authors to political intamy and oblivion, which they most richly deserve. (Signed)

WASHINGTON, March 9.-Bob Inger his lecture on "The Gods" at the Na tional Theatre last night, at seventy five cents a head, to a great crowd, in which fashionable ladies and gray-headed men were conspicuous. Sena tor Bruce was the only Senator present, and several members of the House had ladies with them. A Virginian, who is a Presbyterian and a well known political orator, was there, and be informs your correspondent that it was the saidest spectacle he ever beheld to see the old men applauding and the ladies laughing approving when Ingersoll proclaimed that there is no God but Reason, and asked who will be the successor of Jesus Christ. Twenty years ago public opinion would not have tolerated his brilliant libaldry and his blasphemy in comic trimmings, and yet it is now fashionable to take pure-minded young women who had Christian mothers to hear him. I couldn't help saying to my Virginia friend, as he told me of some of the eloquent infidelity of the lecturer, that to me John Jasper's faith as shown in his theory that the sun moves because he believes his Bible says it does is sub-lime compared with Ingersoll's most splendid passage about Pan and Thor and the other dead gods of the ancients. During the Reign of Terror in France such scenes as that witnessed at the National Theatre last night were common, and it may be that the American capital is preparing itself for a reign of

In a note the author says: "The names Audiphone and Dentaphone being claimed as trade-marks, and being otherwise objectionable, I propose the name Os-teophone as a general term to be used for all pliances—including the above—intended to ail hearing by conveying articulate sounds to the ears through the medium of the cranial bones, the teeth not being essential factors." Dr.

Thomas says:
"In presenting the results of my investigations and experiments on the means and methods of transmitting vocal sounds to the internal ear by the way of the teeth and cranial bones, I shall but briefly describe the two in-struments which have been exhibited here, and which have received so large a measure of public attention during the last few weeks."

BUNCOMBE. ASHEVILLE, Marc's 8 .- The weather has been for some days cloudy, with but little rain.

The revival at the Baptist church still continues and will continue through the coming week; this is the forty-second day. It is estimated that some 200 cenversions have taken place already, and quite a number are now anxious. Many accessions have been made to the churches, some 20 or more were received into the membership of the Methodist church yesterday, and now many joined the other churches I know not.

Buncombe Superior Court convenes to-day, Judge Schenck presiding. The dockets, both civil and criminal, are of considerable length, but the civil is much the largest, owing to the fact that all the time of the former courts has been consumed on the criminal docket. A CORPSES FREAK.

L Dead Man Rises Up. Stiff and Rigid and the People Leave the Room.

Little Rock Gazette. Several days ago Mr. J. McCloud, of Faulkner county, died of rheumatism of the stomach. A large party volunteered to sit up with the corpse, and when night came many sad faces of many sad women and men were seen, sallowed by the mellowing light of tallow candles. The minister came, and entering the room remarked: "Earth to earth, and ashes to ashes." The corpse lay on a table covered with a sheet. "He has gone over the road we must all travel," said the minister. A night-bird, with a mournful cry, answered. A daughter of the deceased came in with an apron full of tea cakes, which, with a slow shuffle, she dis-tributed around the room. "We should prepare to follow him," said the miniser, expletively blowing cake crumbs toward the corpse as though he wished his words to waft away with winning sweetness. The night-bird again cried out, and the company sat silently chewing cake.

"I thought I saw the sheet move," said one of the watchers. "See it there is a cat under it?" The company sat still.

"I'm confident that the sheet moved," said the man.

The minister arose and lifted the sheet, and standing, he looked the pal lid tace of the dead man. The corpse's heed left the table. The minister fell back. Stiff, stark and terrible the corpse head slowly arose from the table. and attained a sitting posture. The legs remained stretch out and the arms remained folded. The women shrieked and ran from the room, and the minis ter , reprimanding them for their weakness and want of confidence, climbed a fence and stood in a turnip patch. When the frightened people saw that the corpse did not intend to follow, they went back into the house. The corpse still retained the upright, rigid posture, s iff as the attitude struck by

With fears somewhat allayed, the minister advanced and placing a hand on the dead man's breast, pressed him backward. Proportionately as his bead went down, his beels came up, and when his he d touched the board, his heels were high in the air. The cause of the dead man's freak was then discovered. The muscles of the stomach, distorted by rheumatism, were contracting. It required the efforts of two men to straighten the corpse. A gentleman who was present declares he never spent such a fearful night, and with Clarence adds: "I would not pass another such night, though twere to buy a world of happy days; so full of dismal terror was the time."

THE ORDER OF THE DAY-BILLS REFERRED-LITTLE DEBATE.

Secretary of the Interior and the Ute Indians-A Bill by Ransom for Settlement of R. R. Accounts.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 10.-The Vice-President laid before the Senate a message received from the President, transmitting the copy of agreement between the Secretary of the Interior and the Ute Indians, and recommending its ratification. Referred to the committee on Indian Affairs.

Senator Kernan presented a petition of Roger A. Pryor, for removal of political disabilities. Referred to committee on Judiciary. Senator Thurman, from the committee on Judiciary, reported adversely on the Senate bill to reimburse the several States for interest paid on the war loans and for other purposes. Placed on the Senator Davis, of Illinois, stated that there was a minority report on the Senator Vance, from the committee on Naval Affairs, reported favorably on the House bill to amend the public marine school act.

Bills were introduced and referred by Ransom, to provide for the settle-ment of accounts of the North Carolina Railroad Company.

By Senator Conkling, a bill to amend Section 4472, Revised Statutes, concerning commerce and navigation, and the regulation of steam vessels.

Also presented a memorial of a large number of the merchants of New York city engaged in the transportation of cotton from the Southern to the North ern and Eastern ports, and praying for the passage of the bill named. Senator Bayard introduced a bill amending section 2,022, revised statutes concerning the election of officers. Considerable debate then ensued upor the motion made by Senator Thurman to refer to the Judiciary committee. A memorial of Indian chiefs, protesting against the passage of the bill to estab lish a U. S. Court in the Indian Territory. Pending the discussion the morning hour expired, and Senator McDonald resumed his speech favoring the bill for the relief of Fitz John Porter. After a somewhat animated debate, in which Senators Conkling, Logan, McDonald and Randolph participated, Senator Jones, of Florida, took the floor to speak on the bill, but yielded to Senator Garland, who moved in consideration of legal and constitutional questions involved, that the bill be referred to the Judiciary committee. Without action on the motion the Sen ate adjourned

Mr. Reagan, of Texas, asked and obtained leave to have printed the follow-ing resolution, which he stated he would offer as a substitute for the resolutions of the Committee on Inter-Oceanic Canal:

the General interest of the whole commercial world, in use of the ship canal or railroad across the isthmus, connecting North and South America, and while we will respect that interest it such a line of Inter-Oceanic communi-cation shall be established, we declare that the establishment of such a line of communication would practically connect the Atlantic and Mexican Gulf and Pacific coast lines of the United States and as the United States would have great local as well as general interest in the work in common with all commer-cial ports of the earth, and as a positical control of such a line of communication would be vitally necessary to her commercial interests and to the preservation of her territorial integrity and political independence she will insist, whenever and by whomsoever such a project shall be commenced on such political confrol of it as will give se urity to our commercial and political in-

The Speaker then proceeded to call the committees for reports, the House having refused to dispense with the morning hour.

Mr. Cox, of New York, chairman of committee on Foreign Affairs, reported a bill appropriating $300,000 for the relief of the suffering poor of Ireland. Referred to Committee of the Whole. Mr. Dibrell, of Tennessee, from the Invalid Pensions committee, reported a back bill to prevent the withholding of pensions from pensioners, under the act of 1871. He asked to have the bill on its passage.

Mr. Conger—Is it to restore Jeff Da-

Mr. Conger-I object, I object. Mr. Dibrell-If the gentleman wants to show his matice to the Southern peoole so badly, he can object. Mr. Conger-That remark is unworthy the gentleman and the occasion. Mr. Dibrell-I am responsible for all say here and elsewhere.

Mr. Conger-Elsewhere is good. The bill was placed on the calendar. Mr. Willis, of Kentucky, from the Education and Labor committee, re-ported a back bill restraining Chinese mmigration into the United States. Piaced on the calendar.
Mr. Van Arnam, of New York, from the same committee, reported a back bill enforcing the eight-hour law. Placed on the calendar. The House then resumed consideration of the Pontical A-sessment bill. Mr. Young, of Onio, spoke in opposition to the bill; and in reply to a speech of Mr. House, of Tennessee, yesterday, which he said was evidently a Tilden "boom," intended to revive the idea that Tilden had been and mired again to proceed the But he said might again be elected. But he said, the day will never come when such an effete specimen of moral depravity as Tilden will be elected presidents [Laughter].

After further debate, Mr. Hastler demanded the previous question, pending which the House took recess until 7:30 o'clock, the evening session to be for consideration of the Pension bill, which was placed on the calendar. HOUSE SUB-COMMITTEE.

The sub-committee of the House Ways and Means committee to-day heard the representatives of the distillery interests, who desire certain changes in the Internal Revenue laws.

Commissioner Raum was present, and said that the Department would make no objection to the many features of the proposed bill, as the changes contemplated in the assessment of the taxes on spirits, placed in the bonded warehouses, would cause about two and one fourth millions of dollars loss of revenue. The bill affects an administration of the law rather than a reductration of the law rather than a reduc-tion of the tax, and it will probably be favorably reported to the House. The Commissioner remarked that licensed distillers generally pay taxes honestly, and the only loss of revenue is due to

tor of the New Orleans Observer, testified that the colored people's conven-tion of 1879 found that the exodus movement originated among plantation laborers and resulted from the persecu-tions by political mobs of 1874-75, and, August, 1874, it spread rapidly until it enrolled 92,800 names in Louisiana, Northeastern Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi and Alabama, 69,000 of these being in Louisiana. Political leaders had nothing to do with it. The convention was called because of the outrage during 1878 inflicted upon the negroes and whites—"simply because they were Republicans!" He said, it is a denial Republicans! He said, it is a denial of the political rights rather than the physical condition, lamentable as the latter is, which causes discontent among the negroes.

GRANTIN MEXICO.

How the General was Entertained by a Bull-Tailing. ORIZABA, Mexico, March 2 .- Amon other incidents of Gen. Grant's visit to Mexico we take the following from a letter to the New York Tribune of the Now came something new-the "bullailing," a sport peculiar to Mexico, and one that is a compromise with scarcely more barbarous bull-tight. On the plateau where the regiment had stood in line had gathered perhaps 150 horsemen. Then forty bulls were driven up and corrolled in a corner made by a tone wall that ran along two sides the space. There was a great deal of ordering and preparing of various kinds to be gone through with. Lassos were given a few preparatory swings; in fact, everything possible was done to gratify the delight of the Mexican in showing off his equestrian accomplishments. At last all was ready, al-though nothing had been done for ar nour except to talk loud and rush mad-

Two or three young fellows rode into the herd and cut off a bull from his companion. He was as wild a deer, away he went like the wind. Then there was a grand rush, a thundering of horses feet, a crackling and snapping of the long dry grass, until the leaders were up with the bull. A long-armed rider reached over and graubed for the tail of the fleeing animal, which vecred suddenly, causing him to miss the mark. A dozen others were in hot pursuit, and after several attempts one o them got hold of the caudal appendage. A long, silver-spangled leg was thrown over the tail of the bull, and the rider braced himself firmly in the saddle and sunk the spurs into the borse's flank the animal was thrown in a twinkling and went rolling over and over in th

The bull was done for. His leg was broken. No one stopped to look after him, but charged another trying to escape. Once in the melee a man was thrown. Another rider quickly threw a lasso over the head of the riderless horse which was leaving the scene. He was moving so rapidly, however, and was so powerful that he brought the lariat straight with a crack, and threw his captor, horse, rider and all, that rolled over each other on the grass. It was an exciting scene; but General Grant observed the bull with the broken leg and another animal bayoneted soldiers, and, prob ing that his presence caused the continuation of the crucity, he asked the Mayor to drive home, and the "bultailing" was over. "I never saw this sport before, and I shall never see it again," he remarked on the way back.

LEADVILLE.

The Great Snowfall and Manner of Travel---The Enormous Output

THE WONDERFUL CITY OF TWO of the Camp, &c., &c. LEADVILLE, Colo., February .- The winter season here, contrary to my expectations, has been as a whole a delightful one. I had nerved and prepared myself to meet a winter of Arctic cold, and winds of most piercing sharpness, which I expected would sweep from their lofty mountain-thrones across these slopes; and had laid in a stock of chamois-skin underwear, thick wool-lined German socks, and a double porti n of warm California blankets. But as yet the extras have reposed peacefully in my wardrobe. In November and December it snowed almost daily, and heaped up over mountain and valley a heavy white mantle, pure as the prayer of innocence. The ber of SO GREAT A SNOWFALL. or so uniformly deep a bed of it. This promises well for the agricultural interests of the State for the coming season, as the farmers here depend not at all on rainfall, but on irrigation from the numberless streams, which gather their supplies from the melting snows. These are distributed over the prairies and valley-lands by ditches switched off from the brooks, and thus held to complete the wondrous transformation of silica; and time, and magnesia into wheat and corn. Fortunately, the mountain snows do not melt suddenly as with you, creating a freshet, and then leaving a drought; but, disappearing first in the valleys, the line gradually ascends the mountain-sides, and is not wholly gone from the higher peaks before October storms begin to heap them up again.

Off the trails, and over the mounoldest settlers say they cannot reme ntains, the only means of locomotion are snow-shoes. Of these, two kinds are in use. The most common is

THE NORWEGIAN, which consists only of two long thin boards of some hard wood, about twelve feet long and four to five inches wide, turned up a little at the forward ends, and arranged in the middle with a strap to fasten to the foot. Using these, an experienced navigator will make great time over the deepest make great time over the deepest snows. He can ascend even very steep places by striking out like a skater i an oblique direction, or as a ship tacke against the wind; and going down when the way is clear, with a large pole which be uses as a brake, carrying it under his arm or riding it as a boy does his broomstick, he will sometimes travel at the rate of a mile in a minute A "tender-foot" rarely ventures on this style of locomotion, as he is conscious of a not remote danger of being "telescoped" against some tree or rock against which his swift but unruly steeds might take him : and he prefer the safer and slower

INDIAN SNOWSHOE, which is an oval frame of willow or hickory, about three feet long and a foot wide, with a network of cord cross ing it, and a piece of rawhide in the middle drawn tightly by the cords, to which the foot is fastened. These will not sink deeply into the snow, and will not slide,-the only trouble in the arising from their possibility of trip-ping one shoe against the other in stepping, and so flinging him head-first into the deep snowdrifts. Leadville understands her mighty wealth of mineral deposits buried all around her, and, like a conscious Queen, she marches to her throne without a qualm of fear or doubt. Think of a city of

THIRTY THOUSAND INHABITANTS a thousand miles from any great commercial mart or center, sprung in two mercial mart or center, sprung in two years from a little miners' camp far up the mountain-slopes, and already possessing water-works, gas-works, operahouses, banks, telephonic communications, and nearly all the accessories of metropolitan luxury! She is already the commercial rival of Denver, and several railroads are strangling several railroads are struggling through the gorges and over mountain-passes to reach her soonest, and secure the carrying trade of her great imports and vast bullion returns. She already anticipates commanding the trade of the vast mineral fields opened to the west of her, and is preparing to meet the demand. Her mercantile houses are crowded with business; her jour-nals are full of news items, and her men of enterprise. In order to show that the Leadville boom is not a wild, unreal, crazy outburst of local enthusiasm, it is only necessary to say that, while Clear Creek, Gilpin, Boulder, and other counties have for years been working good and paying mines. yet, out of the grand total of production of precious metals for the entire State during A. D. 1879, which is summed at something over $15,000,000, the output of this single young, half-fledged camp, with only the crudest appliances. with only the crudest appliances,

WAS $12,032,808. For 1880 the number of producing mines here will be multiplied many-fold. I see in every direction new mines which have been developed, and are day by day joining the grand col-umn, whose names did not appear at all in the records of last year; while such great properties as the Robert E. Lee, Scouper, Smuggler, Glass, Colora-do Prince, Black Prince, Black Prince, Miner Boy, and many others had only entered an appearance as rich produ-cers before the gases of 1879 were closed. During the winter a great number of prospects have been developed into mines by continuous work, and the older mines have greatly increased their facilities; so that I think it requires no stretch of prophetic vision to forecast the output of this camp alone for 1880 at not less than $30,000,000

STARTLING DISCOVERY IN BAL-

The Sketetons of a Woman and Child Found Entembed.

Baltimore Gazette, 5th. The historical old Nicholson man-sion, 443 West Baltimore street, was yesterday the scene of a startling dis-covery involving, it is believed, a mysterious double tragedy. The building, which was recently purchased from the estate of the late John J. Nicholson, the well known banker, was being torn down to make room for the new German Savings Bank, about to be erected on the site, when the men en-gaged in the work found two arched vaults built in the walls of the lower floor, in which were found the bones of two human beings. The solid manner in which the vaults were constructed as well as the evident precautions taken to prevent their presence becoming known, rendered the discovery still more startling, and in a short while a number of interested spectators had crowded into the building and were curiously examining the apertures.
The house, which is a two-story and attie brick structure standing back from the street, has been in course of demolition for several days. Yester-day afternoon the men having removed the roof, commenced knocking out the wall in the basement kitchen in the rear of the structure, and were startled to find that they had penetrated a vault in the centre of the brick-work, about two feet high, four and a half feet long and perfectly circular, like a small section of a sewer, closed at both ends. Upon clearing out the bricks and refuse they found that the aperture contained about a half a dozen bones, which were discernible in the faint light lying in the entre of the cavity.

The bones were carefully removed, and on sounding the wall the men be-came convinced that another cavity was located immediately beneath the first one. The pickage and crowbar were again vigorously applied, and in a few seconds crushed into a second wault, which was the counterpart of the other. In this bones of another human body were discovered lying along the bottom in the position they had evidently been left when the flesh of the bodies had disappeared in the course bodies had disappeared in the course of decomposition. Upon examining the two cavities it was found that they had been arched and built directly in the centre of the mass of brick-work, in the most substantial and careful manner. The bricks nad been imbedded in flint cement, instead of mortar, as an additional strengthener, and every precaution had evidently been taken to prevent their presence being ascertainprevent their presence being ascertained by sounding the wall. By direction of the foreman, the bones were placed in a box, and Mr. R. M. Rother, cash ier of the German Savings Bank, too which the building was torn down, was notified of the discovery. Mr. Rother at once visited the scene, and after an examination ordered the bones to be tak-en to the office of Dr. W. R. McKnew. That physician, after carefully inspect-ing the bones, pronounced them to be portions of the skeletons of an infant and a woman.

From the deeds in the possession o the German Savings Bank it was ascer-tained that the building, which, as stated above, was very old, was built in the year 1802 by a man named Philips. An examination of the brick-work vaults, which was made by expert build-ers, revealed the fact that the tombs of the mysterious dead must have been constructed shortly after the building was finished, as all the surroundings have the same evidences of age. A few years after its completion the house was sold by Philips to a family named Mc Koy, one of whom was named Andrew who retained it until 1841, when it was purchased by the late J. J. Nicholson the well known banker. The latte resided in it for many years, several of his children, who are now living, be-ing born there. Mr. Nicholson was living in the house at the time he was so brutally assaulted on the streets by ruffians who left him for dead, carrying off a large sum of money belonging to his bank which he had on his per son. Mr. Nicholson several years after this moved to another residence and rented the house to a slave-dealer nam ed Grimes. After this the old house, which at that time was situated in an isolated position, became notorious through the cruel treatment by Grimes of the slaves in his charge. He transformed the room in which the vaults were discovered yesterday into prison, where the unfortunate negroes were kept huddled together until several of them died from suffocation and exhaustion Finally the remonstrances of the neighbors resulted in Grimes moving from the house, and the building was let to another tenant. At subsequent periods it was occupied by Mr. G. K. Milno Simon Boite and others. Mr. Chas. G Nicholson, the eldest son of Mr. J. J. Nicholson, was called on at his resi-dence, 235 North Charles street, last night, by a Gazette representative, and when informed of the strange discovery expressed the greatest astonish ment. From the fact that the wall re ferred to was standing when h s fathe purchased the property, it is eviden that the bodies must have been entombed previous to that time, and not by any of the subsequent tenants.

Chilian Ships Bombarding Pernyini Railroad Trains Near Mollendo. special Dispatch to the World.

PANAMA, February 28 .- The Panama Star and Herald says that General Montero is reported as being in excelent condition with his forces, and that Colonel Camacho, the new commander of the Bolivians, although not a soldier by profession, must necessarily be an improvement on his predecessors. Campero has accepted the general direction of the Bolivian Republic under the title of Supreme Chief, and in his proclamation declares that his wish is o emulate the example of Washington to exchange the sword for the pru-ning-hook at the earliest opportunity. The Chilian ships on the blockade off Mollendo have been amusing them selves by firing on the railway trains going from that port to Aresuipa, which have to run close to the sea- hore for the first ten or fifteen miles. On the receipt of a vigorous protest from the foreign consuls at such barbarous conduct, the Chilian commander replied that the railway was the property of the Government of Peru, and his desire was to render it useless, if possi-ble, without reflecting that the lives of many unoffending non-combatants were exposed by such measures. The trains now run at night, and as then the blockaders abandon the vicinity of the port for fear of torpedoes, there have been no further attacks.

The Viscount de Lesseps, speaking in French (Mr. Appleton acting as interpreter), said his object in coming to America was to furnish all the information that he could about the canal enterprise, and he was present on this occasion to answer frankly and clearly whatever questions might be asked He presented to the committe a volume containing the minutes of the Paris Congress. He expressed his pleasure at seeing present to-day Mr. Menocal. whom he had met at the Paris Congress. Any one who would read the report would see how carefully and conscientiously everything was done there. Of the hundred and more members who were present, 78 voted for the Panama line, some 8 voting against it, and 12 declined to vote at all. Admiral and 12 declined to vote at all. Admiral Ammen was First Vice-President at the Paris Congress. More than twenty years ago he had been of the opinion that the only sort of a canal for the navigation of the American isthmus by large ships was a tide water canal, without obstructions of any kind. Navigation had very much changed of late. Instead of being four times as long as they were wide, as formerly, ships are now twelve times or more as long as they are wide. This change in length was one reason why steamship navigation was as cheap or cheaper than navigation by sailing ships, and any ship-canal made now must be nade for steamships rather than for sailing any ship-canal made now must be nade for steamships rather than for sailing vessels. The American explorations of the isthmus for the last twenty-five or thirty years had been by far the best that had been made, but they had begun upon a wrong theory, starting as they did from the interior of the country and supposing it was necessary to have a lock canal. When he undertook to build the Suez Canal twenty years ago and said that he wished to make it a and said that he wished to make it a river from sea to sea, he was considered a madman. There were fourteen projects for a canal presented at the Paris Congress, but the interest had entirely centered in the Nicaragua and Panama

He then laid before the committee a map of the isthmus. As to the Nicaragua Canal Mr. Menocal had given explana-tions of it to the committee as he had given them to the Paris congress. The given them to the Paris congress. The objection to that route were that it would be necessary first to construct the harbor of Brito, and then that it was impossible by the route to make a sea-level canal. It it were determined to build a lock canal, then there was no doubt that the Nicaragua route was the better. However, as one of the projects for the Nicaragua Canal contemplated-seventeen locks and the other contem seventeen locks and the other contem plated twenty locks, that line was use-less as a line of navigation. It would not be possible to send a large ship through that line under five or six days. Senator Sumner in London and discussed commercial matters with him. The tonnage in sailing ships then amounted to 5,500,000 tons for the United States, 5,500,000 tons for England, and 5,000,000 for the other nations of Europe. Since then, owing to the civil war in America and other reasons, the commerce of the United States had got entirely behindhand. This Panama Canal would do more than anything else to recussitate that commerce. It would increase the business of the railroads, because, although many persons thought that railroads and canals were in opposition to each other, that was not the case. It was believed that the Suez Canal would interfere with the rail-road from Alexandria to Suez: but the quadrupled since the canal was opened.
As for the political question involved in the opening of the Panama Canal, that was not his affair at all. He had not come here to give any political opinion about the matter, except to say in a general way that it would be for the advantage of the canal, in case of any difficulty, that it should have a to protect it, and that the United States Government would be naturally the first Government to be looked to for routes, and therefore he would confine himself to a description of these

Some weeks since the Postmaster beneral instructed postmasters to refuse to register letters or issue money orders addressed to the Louisiana State Lottery Company, of New Orleans, thus including this Company among those doing a fraudulent business. THURSDAY MARCH 11 1880.

THE advent of nearly three hundred Chinese cigarmakers in New York, and the probability that fully three hundred more will reach that city during this month, is causing much comment. White workmen denounce the proceeding, but the manufacturers hail the advent of the Celestials as giving promise of a release from the tyranny of strikers. Kearneyism in California is likely to have an immediate and important influence on several Eastern industries. If the Chinese cannot stay on the Pacific coast they will cross the continent.

SALE OF THE WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD.

We were glad to see the letter of Judge Fowle, (printed in our issue of the 5th,) in which replying to a note of inquiry he announced himself as favoring the sale of the Western North Carolina Railroad. And we were also glad to announce editorially in our issue of the 7th that Colonel Thomas M. Holt was a zealous advocate of the proposed cale. We have never considered the question of the proposed sale of this road as in any sense a party question, except to the extent that it is the bounden duty of the party in power to see to the fulfilment of the honest obligations of the State, and we are consequently gratified that three of the gentlemen whose names are prominently men tioned in connection with Gubernatorial honors at the hands of the Democratic party, do not differ in opinion as to the wisdom and advisability of the sale. Gov. Jarvis, Judge Fowle and Col. Holt stand together upon this issue, and we think that the position of these gentlemen will go far to remove any apprehension of an internal condict within the lines of the Democratic party upon this question. They are well known as distinguished and patriotic sons of North Carolina, alive to her interests, jealous of her honor and desirous of promoting the welfare and prosperity of her people. And we apprehend that it is scarcely necessary for us to add that their position upon this question is influenced by no personal considerations, but springs from their patriotic love for North Carolina, and their conviction that by no other method can she relieve her tax oppressed people and redeem her plighted faith to her western citizens.

Surely, when this question of the sale to Mr. Best receives the cordial sanction of most of the leading men in the State, of the entire board of State officials and the delegation of the State in Congress without an exception, surely, we say, it is presumptively a wise and requisite step upon the part of the State, and the entire burden of the controversy rests upon the few who are opposing it. And we rre glad to say that the force of the opposition is daily weakening.

But in addition to the opinions of the gentlemen mentioned above, it will be found upon inquiry by anyone seeking after the truth, that the business men of the State, those men who eschew politics except to vote upon election day and who in a quiet, unobtrusive way are doing more to build up the material interests of North Carolina than all the politicians within her borders, are well-nigh solid in their advocacy of the sale. These men, who with the tillers of the soil constitute the real strength of the State, feel the burdens of heavy taxation and appreciate the construction of new highways for commerce and the consequent extension of trade by the opening of new avenues and the development of those sections of the State which are now inaccessible They know the grand results which will flow from the completion of this Western North Carolina Railroad, and they know that North Carolina, with a grievous debt and a depleted treasury. will never be able, at least in this generation, to complete the work. They look at the question as business men, and they can find no other outlet from the difficulties that surround and envelope the matter except by a sale of the road to those who have the means and the enterprise to finish it. These business men are, of course, alive to their own interests and base their opinions accordingly, but their interests and the interests of the State are always identical and are peculiarly so in the matter now at issue.

It is exceedingly gratifying to this journal to know that in advocating the acceptance of the offer of Mr. Best, it does so with the assurance that a large majority of the public men, of the farmers and mechanics, and of the business men of the State are united in favor of the sale, and are agreed that the ratification of the contract with proper guarantees will redound to the best interests of the people of North Carolina

Colonel Barr Frots out Litden. J. P. Barr's Interview in the N. Y. Herald I saw Samuel J. Randall, and he said that he could unequivocally announce that Mr. Tilden would be a candidate. He did not say when Mr. Tilden would speak for bimself, but the impression is very strong that he will make the announcement to the New York State Convention. It is time he should declare just where he stands. Those who are nearest to him say he is one who never speaks too early, and the danger is that he may speak too late. It is due to his honest and enthusiastic support-ers that they should be taken out of the dark. At present they are keeping in the procession chiefly because the most powerful sentiment of the great mass of the people of the party is that the outrage of 1876 embraced Mr. Tilden as the chief sufferer, and no vindication would be complete that he did not partake of. Dalliance in a situation like this may lead to a discouragement that would dissipate his forces, and these would then very likely be dis-tributed among all the candidates in the Independent and Conservative.

THE SUN is conservative in politics, independent in tone and non-sectarian. Its proprietors point to the principles that have governed it in the past as a guarantee of its course in the future. On all subjects of public interest it will continue to express its opinions, according to its best judgment, with a view only to the promotion of the best interest of the public. All the freshest news, at home and abroad, excluding only that which is prurient or sensational, is given from day to day in its columns. In addition to what is furnished by the Associated Press and by the local reporters of The Sun, no expense is spared to keep its special correspondence, that from Europe as well as from the Pacific Coast, and from its Washington Bureau, abreast of the times, and to supplement it, as occasion may require, at every other point to which the current of events give prominence.

The Financial and Commercial Reports of The Sun contain at all times full and trustworthy accounts of all movements and operations in the leading markets, as well as that of Baltimore, with special telegraph service from New York of the latest stock and other transactions; while its reports of the ruling prices of breadstuffs, provisions, and o'her leading articles of trade and commerce, will embrace the latest intelligence, both at home and abroad, of each day's doings, up to the hour of going to press.

As a Paper for the People, filled with the freshest and most varied news, The Sun mas acquired a reputation which is not surpassed by any of its contemporaries, while its large circulation, not only locally, but in many of the States of the Union, makes it the most valuable medium for all classes of advertisers.

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS,

The Scourge of Mankind. Old Methods of Treatment and Remedies a Failure.

dies a Failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this country. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the externa application of Cuticura, the Great Skin Cire, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm Scald Head, Dandruff, and all itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scale.

ECZEMAON THE SCALP.

BREAST AND LIMBS CURED. Messrs Weeks & Potter: Guelemen-I cannot refrain from ad ing my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago believing me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it ere necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Bheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs—of—, Dr.—of—, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to acure.

April let less I because the second suppose the second suppose icines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1st last, I began the use of Currcura, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of Currcura entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely cured. I shall continue the uticura Resolvent as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc.,

STEPHEN CROWELL.

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

Messrs. Weeks & Potter:—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of Cuticura for a bad case of Sait Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day.
